Instructions: Read the paragraph and circle the correct version of the word from each word series.

Name _____

During Sherman's March to the Sea, Union soldiers destroyed (there / their / they're) supplies as they moved through Georgia. General Sherman believed the Confederates would only surrender if (their / they're / there) will to fight was broken. His troops marched for miles, tearing up railroad tracks and burning everything in (sight / site / cite). When they reached Savannah, (it's / its) buildings were spared, and Sherman offered the city as a gift to Lincoln. Many Southerners struggled to (bare / bear) the loss, watching as (their / they're / there) homes and livelihoods were destroyed.

Answers:

During Sherman's March to the Sea, Union soldiers destroyed (their) supplies as they moved through Georgia. General Sherman believed the Confederates would only surrender if (their) will to fight was broken. His troops marched for miles, tearing up railroad tracks and burning everything in (sight). When they reached Savannah, (its) buildings were spared, and Sherman offered the city as a gift to Lincoln. Many Southerners struggled to (bear) the loss, watching as (their) homes and livelihoods were destroyed.